U.S.-MEXICO LOGISTICS & SUPPLY CHAIN LEADERS MEETING MIAMI

Top Speakers + Conference + Networking

JUNE 21, 22 - 2023 - Port Everglades, Miami, Florida

OBJECTIVES

Inbound Logistics Latam created the space of the SUPPLY CHAIN LEADERS MEETING with the aim of bringing the leaders and decision makers of the logistics sector into a high-altitude environment where they could not only collect valuable information from colleagues and related operations, but also share their experiences, concerns and proposals, participating in the panels or dictating conferences. In addition, aware of the short time available to logistical actors, space should be limited to one morning, in respect to their agendas.

After the first year in which Inbound Logistics Latam successfully completed its first three SCLMs in Mexico City, the same participants asked us to extend it beyond the northern border, to strengthen relationships with US logistics players, and that was how Miami and Los Angeles became new destinations for the meeting. To this new international format, we successfully added the opportunity to meet strategic maritime ports in both oceans, as well as the possibility of networking with authorities involved in international trade between both countries.

In this way, the SUPPLY CHAIN LEADERS MEETING becomes an unmissable event for the logistic leaders of America, because much more than being an informative updating space, it is a strategic space to know and establish a relationship with strategic actors of international logistics .
